JOSEF ANDERLE:

One of the inmates of the TURKOW-camp is a certain Josef ANDERLE, who is travelling to Czechoslovakia several times every month, without even trying to keep it a secret. In return for payments he is prepared to carry over personal property and luggage of camp-inmates.

Very often, however, he borrows greater amounts of money from the families of emigrants at home, which he fails to account for. He borrowed for instance 5,000 Kcs from (Mrs.) Slava KUPALOVA, the mother of Eliška KUPALOVA who is at present in TURKOW.

ANDERLE is also in permanent close contact with the representative of the "TROJKA-Movement" in Germany, Vladimir POKORNY, for whom he acts as courier to Czechoslovakia.

He is also collecting all newspapers issued by the Czechoslovak emigration, which he takes to Czechoslovakia.

During a visit to the GOTTESCHAU on X'mas 1940, PhC. Zdenek BEN HALLER overheard on the corridor a discussion between ANDERLE and another man, when the former declared: "I could take you along to Czechoslovakia, but not back, because the Czech Police are taking me right up to the border by motorcar".

ANDERLE likes to talk a lot about his activities and is presenting himself as a hero of the Resistance-movement.

On the 7th February, on the occasion of a larger social party in his flat, (Mrs.) KUPALOVA accused him openly that he was selling information from the emigration to the Ministry of the Interior. ANDERLE was taken aback by her words, but apparently did not take any consequences.
